Haas Door Company “Energy Tax Credit Statement”

If you have purchased a Haas Door Company 200, 600, 700, 800, 900 or 2000 series insulated garage door between January 1, 2009 and December 31, 2010, you may be entitled to an energy tax credit under the new stimulus legislation. The following checklist will assist you in determining whether you qualify for the tax credit. All boxes must be checked in order to qualify.

- Your new garage door is insulated (i.e., reduces heat loss or gain).
- Your garage or building is insulated.
- The door was installed at your principal residence in the United States.
- The door must be installed after December 31, 2008 and before January 1, 2011.
- The door is expected to remain in service for at least five years.

The maximum tax credit for all energy-efficient purchases of doors and windows is $1,500 (installation labor not included).

The installation must include a perimeter seal and a bottom seal.
